Welcome Week 2018
Micro-Seminars

Introduction to Animation Industry

Caroline Hu
Animation
School of Cinematic Arts

This seminar provides an introduction to the business of animation, where students will be given an opportunity to draw and design characters and create a storyboard, similar to how one would do in the animation business. You will learn the basic fundamentals of drawing required to create appealing, animatable characters and gain a general understanding of the animation process.