"Life is improvisation," says Tina Fey. In this experiential workshop we will build upon the two most important words in improv — YES AND — and learn not only how those two little words serve a comedic scene, but also how they can apply to one’s life. Through improv games and practices, students will participate in effective storytelling, relationship-building and presentation — skills that enhance any field of study, and any life path.