PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

A brief description of the graduate program.

In the Master of Arts in Specialized Journalism, award-winning, experienced journalists guide students toward publication in professional outlets, generating “impact journalism” that makes a difference. Students are encouraged to explore documentary, investigative, and narrative journalism genres through a range of specialties and disciplines, including international reporting, social justice journalism, and reporting on religion, climate change, sports, entertainment, and other subjects. Under the guidance of faculty advisers, and with a wide range of electives for study throughout the university, students craft their own unique master’s degree.
